STAGE FOLK TAKE UP NEW HOBBIES

Every member of the Frawley company, however, some sort of a hobby or is willing to cultivate one. Miss Laura Gurnea is an expert at the piano. Miss Cordelia Gurnea is an authority on raising sheep. John Halliday puts in his spare time designing new Mexican dishes. T. R. Willadsen, the manager of the company, is a musician on a small scale (no pun intended), he plays the harmonica and the fife, and T. D. Gurnea has a passion for reading folk lore and studying anthropology.

Ever since the company reached Honolulu the members have been on the look out for some new hobby. Willadsen has decided to learn to play the ukulele and the guitar and for that purpose called on Ernest K. Kaai yesterday to arrange for lessons. Miss Eva Lang has become devoted to the surfboard and can be seen daily at Waikiki riding the ocean surf. Miss Annette Tyler is fond of the outboard canoe and expects to take one home with her for use at Asbury Park next year. Other members of the company are still in search of hobbies and to that end are scouring Honolulu for new ways to spend their time and money.

Next week the company will have a vacation and after the last performance of "Peg o' My Heart" on Saturday night they expect to go their several ways to work out their own hobby salvation. Some of them will go over to the Big Island for a view of the Volcano but many of them will remain in Honolulu for a rest at the beach. Manager Willadsen believes that he will master the ukulele in the seven days' breathing spell.

DEBUT WILL BE MOST AMBITIOUS

There is no American man of letters better known than the Rev. Dr. Frank Gonsauls, pastor of Central church, Chicago. The director of music for his church, which is the oldest religious organization of its kind in the Middle West, is Prof. Daniel Protheroe, the famous Welsh singer and composer. These two illustrious men have collaborated on "Castilla," a play of old Spain, which is to be the feature number of the forthcoming musical of the Apollo Club of Honolulu, at the Mission Memorial Hall, May 8.

The romantic "air" of old Spain is found running all through the music, and one can readily imagine the chivalrous knight who fought the prince in "a Rajah's Boast of Peerless Line," from out of Islam, to steal a bride.
"Steel flashed on steel, the tears fell fast," as the battle waxes hotter and in the end, of course, one hears "Die Prince!" and knows that all is well and that love triumphs as it should.

The singers of the club are putting forth special effort and the rendition of this great work shall be up to the highest standard—and a rare treat in store for those fortunate enough to hear the program.

UNWATERING OLD MINE IS BEGUN

[By Associated Press.]
GRASS VALLEY, Cal.—An event of historic importance here today was the starting of the pumps which are to free from water the great workings of the once-famous Allison Ranch mine. This mine, named by its owners as the richest gold mine in the world, has been idle for over 20 years, and something of mystery attaches to its water-locked levels.
The ledge was discovered in 1851, and between 1851 and 1871 was worked on a large scale, yielding, according to tradition, many millions. Angered by litigation, the local version be true, one of the owners flooded the mine to stop its operation. It was not until unwatered until purchased by James Flood and John M. Mackay 20 years later.
Flood and Mackay operated the mine until Mackay's death in 1896, when it was again abandoned to water. All records of both periods were destroyed in the San Francisco fire and the present owners have undertaken the great expense of rejuvenation largely upon the recommendation of grizzled miners who once toiled in the black levels of the mine.
A plant costing $125,000 has been erected and powerful electrical pumps are employed in the attack upon the water.

SANTA FE HANDLED 706 EXTRA CARS TO COAST

General Agent H. E. Vernon of the Santa Fe's local office believes his line carried from Chicago to San Francisco during the winter tourist season a majority of tourists coming to Honolulu from the Middle West. As proof of this he points to the following item in the April number of the Santa Fe Magazine, distributed free by the system to its 75,000 employees every month:
"Many things go to prove that the Santa Fe is by long odds the most popular route between Chicago and the Pacific. Concrete evidence is furnished in the fact that between November 1 and February 28 we handled out of Chicago alone a total of 706 extra Pullmans. These extra cars were used on first, second and third sections of the California Limited, as well as on the de luxe on several occasions.
These figures do not include any of the regular equipment of these trains, nor do they include any of the extra cars from Minneapolis, Kansas City or Denver, of which we had quite a number. All the other lines combined during the same period did not handle 25 extra cars for California."

A total of 4,471 men were recruited for the United States navy during March.

Hawaii-Elkhorn Gold Mines, Ltd.

Does it sound like big profits? Well, have you knowledge of the great earning power of a good gold mine? This estimate is very conservative. A mine output of only 100 tons a day will do it, and that is a small scale of operation for a single small mine. Other mines in the same country are making far greater profits; and so may we, but we plan to proceed with prudent speed looking to an absolutely safe and long continuing business, with ore developments far in advance of immediate needs.

Most failures in mining enterprises are due to failure to find suitable ore in sufficient quantities. While the subject of such ventures are called mines, they are merely prospects. We are not prospectors; we are organizing to operate proven mines. The other fellows made the discoveries and carried the burdens of development work.

We know the ore is there in large bodies because we spent good money and months of time to find out—to prove this very important item; and we proved it in every way known to the science of such proof, even to opening hundreds of feet of virgin, productive ground.

Mother Nature planted this crop and brought it to maturity; we are buying the right to it as against all the rest of the world; all we have to do is to harvest and mill it. The product is gold.

Read the prospectus. Get in on the ground floor while the opportunity is open; it won't be open long.
